

Mindlance Application Management Practice

Mindlance Application Management Practice

About Mindlance Application Management Practice

Mindlance application management practice focuses on providing a full spectrum of software product development services to help ISV and corporate to leverage leading-edge technologies for their business improvement.

Need for Outsourcing of Application Management with Mindlance

Outsourcing the Application Management to Mindlance will let you to focus on your core business activities and leave your application management to us. Mindlance can take care of planned application management services as well as unplanned operations by leveling the resources by fetching or releasing with ease.

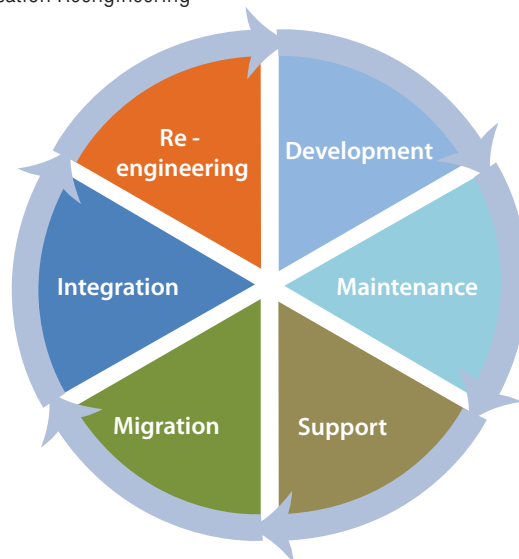

Mindlance application management team expertise becomes an extended arm of your R & D team or IT Services team to improve your application while providing greater reduction in cost.

Mindlance Application Management Service Offerings

As a successful outsourced application development partner, we endure our global clients by providing optimal solutions through our focused approach.

We offer a full range of Application Management Services that is required for a customer to meet the end-to-end requirements at all phases of software development life cycle. We have a comprehensive service portfolio comprising of:

- Application Development
- Application Maintenance
- Application Support
- Application Migration
- Application Integration
- Application Reengineering

Application Development & Maintenance Services

Mindlance governance model is completely surrounded by KPI's to manage risk. We perform multi layer governance review starting from module to portfolio. Dashboard driven Portfolio Management

Mindlance Application Management Practice

Governance emphasizes delivery, customer satisfaction as well as people and process.

People People capability is the greatest asset for Mindlance. Our people centric work culture thrives on effective people engagement at diversified technology. Our project teams constitutes of a rich variety of expertise and experience.

Mindlance believes that investing in cultural alignment is the key to manage an effective ongoing relationship with our Clients. Our governance model includes a framework that measures the various indexes to align our people with Clients' culture and approach.

Process Mindlance understands that a project is considered a success only if business objectives are achieved without running over budget and schedule and by meeting the agreed level of quality.

Mindlance follows a well-defined software development lifecycle process for its clients utilizing the latest technologies and structured methodologies including XP, Agile, SCRUM, RUP, and SSADM

Mindlance's Technology Expertise is spread across a wide range of technologies like:

- Product Development Languages (Microsoft, Sun)
- Service Oriented Architecture (SOA), Web Services and SO
- AP Middle-ware (RPC, MQ-Series and ORB)
- Database (Oracle, MS-SQL Server, Sybase SQL Server and My-SQL)
- Software Deployment Model (SaaS and MS-SMS)
- Distributed Systems

Contact enquiry@mindlance.com or sudhanshu@mindlance.com to find out more about our application management service offerings...